

Hold a pet picnic with some soft toys. You could write invitations to them.	Set up a role play vets surgery.	Draw some pictures of different pets – if you have pets at home, you could draw portraits of them.	Play a listening game with an adult – take it in turns to make a pet noise and the other person guesses what it is.	Listen to the ‘Carnival of the Animals’ by Camille Saint-Saëns. Can you do some animal movements to the music?	Can you think of any words that rhyme with different pets? E.g cat, dog, fish.
Create your own pet shop.	Learn about vets and how they look after animals when they are unwell.	Explore colour mixing with paints to paint some pictures of pets.	Make some different animals masks.	Read some pet themed stories, such as, Dear Zoo.	Have a discussion with an adult about what things pets need to survive.
Make some salt dough to create models of animals.	Use Lego/ other construction materials to build homes for different pets.	<h1>Pets</h1>		Go on a walk. See how many different pets you can spot out and about.	Put your soft toys in size order.
Create some handprint pets using different colours of paint.	Take some pictures of your own pets and try to write their names.			Speak to grown-ups in your family about the pets they have had in the past.	Research what pets are popular in different countries.
Discuss with adults/ siblings what their favourite pet is and why.	Use the internet to search for information about different pets e.g. what do they eat?	Do you know the names of baby animals? Research what they are called.	If you could have any pet in the world, what would you choose and why?	Can you change the words to ‘Old McDonald’ to names and sounds of pets?	Can you create some pet themed foods? For example, cupcakes with animal faces.
Explore different ways of moving like different animals e.g. bouncing around like rabbits.	Make a pet carrier for a soft toy pet.	Make up a song or poem about different pets.	Cut out some different 2D shapes. Can you put them together to make a pet?	Create a sock puppet pet.	Can you name some wild animals? Would they make good pets? Have a discussion with an adult.